Allegacy Federal Credit Union Announces New Hire

Winston-Salem, N.C. – Allegacy Federal Credit Union, one of the largest credit unions in North Carolina, announced that Pam Kline has joined the organization as financial center manager to lead its newly opened location in Greensboro.

Kline has over 36 years' experience in the financial industry and has held various positions within the industry, including customer service, teller, operations officer, and branch manager. At Allegacy, she is responsible for overseeing the daily operations of the Greensboro center, overall performance and team development as well as loan and deposit growth.

Kline is certified from the NC School of Banking Mid Management program and the North American School of Accounting.

The Greensboro location is at 3314 Battleground Avenue.

About Allegacy

Allegacy is one of the largest credit unions in North Carolina, with members throughout the world. Founded in 1967 in Winston-Salem, Allegacy has a broad membership base in our community, including the employees, retirees and families of over 600 companies throughout the country.
