Allegacy Federal Credit Union Announces Vice President Of Information Technology

Winston-Salem, N.C., August 5, 2015 – Allegacy Federal Credit Union, one of the largest credit unions in North Carolina, announced today that Ernest Hanington has been hired as vice president of information technology.

Hanington is responsible for the overall information technology planning, direction, management and administration of Allegacy's IT function, overseeing systems design, programming, installation, project management, and IT operations. He has 27 years experience in information technology and has spent the majority of that time in executive leadership positions. Most recently, he served in vice president roles at Campus Partners and Salem Leasing Corporation in Winston-Salem, and owning his own technology solutions consulting company.

Hanington earned a BS degree in Information Science and Data Processing from the University of Louisville in Louisville, Kentucky. His certifications include Six Sigma and IBM Certified IT Specialist.
